

world diabetes day

14 November

6th Annual University of Florida Pediatric Endocrinology World Diabetes Day “BLUE CIRCLE” Photo Contest

People with diabetes, families, friends, healthcare professionals, educators, advocates...
This is your chance to be creative & promote diabetes awareness.

Blue circles are the global symbol associated with diabetes.

So, take a picture that has one or more blue circles in it and become a diabetes advocate. For the blue circle you can wear it, paint it, make it, form it, pose next to it, etc. Single person or group shots are welcome. Do the photo as a family event or have an entire class participate at school. Have fun with your creation!

Sponsored by the University of Florida:
Pediatric Endocrinology and Diabetes Research Program

Contest opened 9/27/13 through 11/14/13. Winners to be announced 11/22/13.

Prizes to be awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Place
